Well Done Netballers! Last Friday saw three teams of excited girls, Mrs Lynch, one student teacher, many parents, Mrs Sheppard and Elizabeth Osborne (umpires) attended a netball gala day. Our girls were extremely successful with the Yr4 and Yr6 teams winning their age events and the Yr5 team as runners up.

Respect, Responsibility, Real Learning

Principal: Aloma Stewart PO Box 192 Fairy Meadow NSW 2519 P&C: www.balgowniepnc.com

As always, our girls were fantastic and their behaviour, camaraderie and sportsmanship were commented on as being exemplary. Thanks to Mrs Lynch who has coached and managed these teams to give our students some extra experiences.

Canteen The canteen will remain closed until 7 November, due equipment issues. The canteen may need to be closed for longer, if more volunteers are not available. Please consider volunteering to assist in keeping our school canteen open.

Mufti Day Thursday 6th November. As part of our support for students who make PSSA State teams, we are holding a mufti day fundraiser next Thursday for India McKeon. India is representing our school and NSW at the National Titles in Tasmania. Please bring a gold coin donation to support India and her family. Thanks.

Kindy 2015 (the class of 2027) – Orientation One. It is lovely to meet our new cohort of Kindergarten students and they mostly looked confident and happy at school today on their first official orientation. They shared a lesson with their parents in the classroom.

Next week they will be in class by themselves and their parents will be learning about our school and how to help their child with reading. The new Kindies meet the Year 5 students and see who will be their buddy in 2015. It is wonderful to see the responsibility and care shown to these students by our older children, who genuinely want this to be a smooth start and fun experience for the new generation of Balgownie Kids. Not to mention they can help unwrap those challenging packaging items at lunch and recess!

Transition Playgroup is a huge success. Thanks to the parent team who have continued with the fourth year of this important initiative to build relationships with our new families and to make sure that the new generation of Balgownie Kids are happy and confident to come to 'big school.' They play hard and have a great time. The focus of the group is for the children starting school in 2015. It is on from 9.15-10.45am on Thursdays in the hall and complements our three orientation sessions.

We are currently looking for a team of coordinators for next year. If you have a child who is starting school in 2016, we need you! The program is all set and the current and past playgroup leaders are happy to mentor you. Please see me or the Playgroup ladies to put your name down.

We also say thanks to the P and C who have donated a Balgownie School Hat to each new student. It is a great way to start our expectations of school uniform with our students.

Interrelate is well attended Thanks to Mr Loxton and the team who have coordinated the Interrelate talks last night. It is an evening that is both informative and fun. Many parents comment that it helps them to then be able to talk about some of those tricky topics with their children.

The first session was Where Did I Come From? for Years 3,4,5,6 and parents where the key focus was

- Developing students' understanding of male and female reproductive systems, conception, foetal development and birth
- Discussing different ways children can join families, e.g. adoption, fostering, blended families
- Facilitating parent-child discussions

The second session was Preparing for Puberty mostly aimed at Years 5 & 6 and parents with the key focus was

- Developing students' understanding in relation to the physical, emotional, social and intellectual changes associated with puberty for both boys & girls
- Facilitating parent-child discussions

I have added a Parenting Ideas section about how to find more time to talk with your children that may be useful following on from these talks.

Entry to Government Selective High Schools for Year 7 in 2016

Application is required by 17 November 2014 for parents or carers of Year 5 students who wish their children to be considered for placement in Year 7 at a selective high school in 2016. This is for the academically selective schools, such as Smiths Hill High School.

There are 17 fully selective high schools, 25 partially selective high schools, 4 selective agricultural high schools and one virtual selective high school offering selective placement in Year 7 in NSW. Boarding places are available at Farrer Memorial Agricultural High School (boys only), Hurlstone Agricultural High School (co-educational) and Yanco Agricultural High School (co-educational).

Parents can apply for up to three selective high schools. Placement in the virtual selective high school is restricted to students intending to enrol in a government high school in a country area far from a city.

Parents of Year 5 students have received a letter which is an expression of interest in applying for selective high school placement for their children. Please return these slips to the school by 24 October so that we know who is intending to apply.

Those students who wish to apply will be given an information booklet. This is also available on the High Performing Students

Unit's website at: www.schools.nsw.edu.au/shsplacement. All applications need to be made online as no paper applications will be accepted. No late applications will be accepted by the Selective High School Unit.

All students wanting to go to a selective high school for Year 7 in 2016 will have to take the Selective High School Placement Test on the morning of Thursday 12 March 2015.

Have a great week!

Aloma Stewart

SWIM SCHEME

A reminder that Swim Scheme notes and money need to be sent to the office asap. If your child can swim more than 25m please still apply. Open to Year 2 – 6 students only.

STAGE 3 PDHPE

Starting from this Thursday, Stage 3 students will be studying a unit on Human Sexual Development and Reproduction as part of the PDHPE curriculum. If parents notice an increase in tricky questions at home in the next few weeks, this is probably the cause. Enjoy the time communicating with your soon-to-be teenagers.

NETBALL KNOCK-OUT NEWS

Last Friday, 24th October, I had the absolute pleasure of taking 3 teams of netballers to a Gala Day at Berkeley. For the first time we were able to take a Year 4 team, a Year 5/6 team and a Year 6 team. We began our day playing in a thunderstorm but this quickly cleared to become a very hot day. Needless to say the girls all played very well and showed an enormous amount of skill and talent on the netball field. The Year 4 team were undefeated all day and eventually won their grand final against Austinmer by 1 point. For a team of girls who've only just started playing school netball together,

I am so very proud of them. The Year 6 team also dominated their competition, only losing one game. For several of their games, they managed to keep the other team scoreless. They won their grand final against Flinders very convincingly. Finally, the Year 5/6 team was mostly a team of girls who had not played netball before. These girls played together as a team with such spirit and enthusiasm. The level of improvement from the beginning of the day to the end of the day was outstanding, so much so that they made it to the grand final, narrowly losing to Corrimal East.

I am incredibly proud of each and every player and very excited about the future of Netball at Balgownie Public School. Well done girls – you are all champions in my mind.

INSIGHTS

How to talk more with your kids

The links between school achievement and parents' ability and propensity to talk with kids from a young age is indisputable.

If you were to focus on one thing to give your child an advantage then do what should come naturally – talk with them.

The links between school achievement and parents' ability and propensity to engage in conversation with kids from a young age is indisputable.

The language stimulation they receive when they talk with parents is one factor. The language of first borns is generally more extensive and richer than their siblings who spend less time in one-on-one situations with a parent.

But engagement in conversation with parents benefits kids in a far broader sense. It is trite to say that kids learn a great deal from their parents but, in fact they do when we talk with them.

In many ways it is through conversations that kids get a real sense of us and who we are. It is by talking with kids that we impart some of our knowledge, ideas, wisdom and thoughts as well as how we get a window into their worlds and how they think.

Getting conversations going with kids can be a massive challenge. Busy schedules, homes designed for individual enjoyment rather than group living, and kids that clam up are some of the blockers to conversation that parents meet.

So you may need to be a little cunning, a little proactive and a little inventive to get some chat going at home.

Here are five ideas to help you get more conversation going in your family:

1. Turn off the TV (and other screens). Most homes have a range of electronic screens that you compete with to get their attention. Don't be afraid to take control of those screens and create a little conversational space. Start with a screen-free day each week or screen-free hour each day if you are a home full of screen junkies.

2. Turn on the TV (and other screens). If you can't beat them, join them. Some television programs provide great conversational fodder particularly for older children and teens. This can range from "who's going to win Australian Idol?", "what happens to the winners of Australian Idol?" to "what is the point of Australian Idol?"

3. Have more mealtimes (with the TV off). The family that eats together talks together...or they should. I have a theory that families with a strong food culture (i.e. they love food and value the whole eating experience) have strong bonds. So make mealtimes special and insist that kids sit until everyone finishes rather than they eat all their peas. Avoid turning mealtimes into food fights that you can't win.

4. Move more. If sitting and chatting is not your child's thing then try getting them up and moving. Boys will often talk when they walk or play so consider getting some action happening. When their hands are busy the tongues will often loosen up.

5. Try shoulder-to-shoulder parenting. Sitting together in a car, washing dishes and playing a game can provide opportunities for talk. Take the eye contact out of the equation and you may find the talk just flows with some kids.

Every family has their own way of getting the talk happening. Figure out what works for you and make sure it happens. It seems to me that the best communication in families happens when no one is working at it BUT in busy modern families you do need to work at communication. That is the way of it. You have to work hard at family.
